Importance: High

Maybe we should take message from the hand out of Thursday:

Protestors are able to continue to exercise their Free Speech Rights between hours of 6 am and 10 pm when the park is open to the public. However, over the last 11 days the city can no longer maintain health and safety of not only the protestors but the students, workers and general public who all use this space. We are requiring the protestors to remove the encampment by 10 pm.

OMLF is a proud member of:

OMLF Wednesday September 28, 2011 Parking Proposal Forum Notes of the discussion and time line to set proposal into action

Lots of stories of parking and transparency complaints came out.

Mr. Pinto informed us that there is a new item from city for ease of paying parking tickets. Kiosks

I don't think the public know you can call in to pay your parking tickets or if it cost extra; only those whose car is booted is aware that you can call right now and the boot can be removed right now.

Kiosks are Located at city hall, Eastmont and main police stations

The Kiosks are another secret rolled out by his department without city staff or the public knowing. Their response is that it is a pilot program and they are working out the kinks before rolling out to the city staff and then the public.

There is a monthly parking enforcement meeting that a representative from OMLF will attend. Mr. Cyrus Pishdad he should report back to us what transpired in that meeting.

Mr. Pinto informed us that the Parking enforcement team cannot resend a mistaken parking ticket but can call supervisor on the spot to rectify the ticket vs. the public spending time appealing the ticket. The public is not aware of this procedure. We are the watchdogs of this procedure as no one was aware. This is not presently being done by parking enforcement. The public should not have to appeal errors.

Mr. Pinto gave us the ways to fight/appeal a parking ticket and says it is 50-50 weighting on the public side of the complaint. We must start a blog to find out how true. (or some way of measuring success for the public).

#1) go to parking department (staff) no payment due at that time of appeal

#2) go to hearing officer and payment is due at that time of appeal

#3) go to lowest level of court called limited jurisdiction and file a claim

It was told by Sanjiv that it cost the city 11mil to operate the parking kiosks. Mr. Gable stated this information should be available to the public.

We tried to get at least one thing today that the parking enforcement task force could show mercy on the public; Item #4 of our proposal. Stop the aggressive parking enforcement

Some of our requests are policy and some are procedures Mr. Pinto will see which of the procedures he can change in 30 days and let us know the process to change policy. We will ask him to distinguish the two.

Noel Pinto will get back to us before our next forum October 26th 2011 this above item.

It appears that the Policy vs. Procedures are another way of stalling our request. We must begin to get loud about parking or else the city will think we are just complaining and not serious. We will give 30 day and then if not heard start the petition process initiated by Allen Michaan Allen Michaan suggested an aggressive approach without waiting for a report back as it seems that we are being stalled. Karen King made suggestion that the new administration should be given a chance and to not blame them as the public voted in the same city council who is not willing to work with us. So it is the public who needs to be blamed for continuing the same madness as in the past. However we have a new administration give a 30 day window to see what transpires.

Below are some of the suggestions or comments made that we will amend to OMLF proposal.

Concerns:

- Discretion of meter enforcement
- Permit costs / public should not have to appeal errors
- Consistency of parking rates "D"
- Representative from OMLF present at monthly briefing
- Respect from council for work done by task force
- Unclear signage
- Allowance for time difference no way to determine synchronize
- Compare parking fees to business tax revenue

City staff Karen Boyd office of the Administrator wants to look at our parking studies from the parking task force and the recommendations Shari is to provide this information to Karen Boyd and Drew Lisac. No time line was committed by Karen. The new city administrator has something in the works but is not ready to reveal it. This is where respect need to happen, one of the parking task force should be invited to this meeting with the city administrator. As we have been working on this forever and not heard.

There is attached to this email a California parking summit we should all attend so that we know what we are facing and not waste our time with proposals that will not get recognized by our city as we know should this city is ran by others not living in this city.

Our proposal offers the city something that can be done to offset revenue. And it would be good PR for the city to give merchants Item #1 the holiday free parking as a way of showing some compassion for our concerns.

There was no time to discuss the entire proposal, to be continued at next forum. So here we are October 26th 2011 to continue our conversation

THOSE WHO ARE INTERESTED SHOULD REGISTER AND ATTEND THIS BELOW!!!

Want to learn more about parking? On Tuesday, November 1, at the Marriott City Center in Oakland, 8 a.m. - 11 a.m., there's a free breakfast seminar, Parking Matters™ -- sponsored by the California Public Parking Association and the International Parking Institute. This seminar is perfect for city planners, building owners and managers, developers, financial officers, municipality officials and others who want to learn how to boost profits, improve parking systems and learn the latest in new parking technologies and innovative tactics.

The program will feature parking experts on topics ranging from sustainable parking and emerging trends in parking, urban development and revitalization to improving the parking auditing process and closing the gap between paper regulations and real-life parking operations. Free, but advance registration is required. Space is limited. Register by October 25 by contacting Yael Oved, 818-581-1110, or email conference-rep@cppaparking.org.

We encourage forum participants to walk, bike, BART or bus to the forum, but if you must drive, we offer parking validation! (Valid for City lots only)

From the Oakland Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce

The 11th Annual America's Children's Holiday Parade was without a doubt the best year in this parade's history. On December 4th, 2010, our parade attracted more than 100,000

children of all ages to the streets of downtown Oakland. This year, the 12th Annual America's Children's Parade is set to attract even more visitors than last year, and we want to encourage people to stay and explore Oakland's hidden attractions.

The Oakland Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce will be launching their new parade website www.americasholidayparade.com and we want local restaurants and businesses to utilize this tool to their advantage. We are in the midst of creating a parade coupon package where parade visitors can view our FAQ section of the website for local eateries and attractions. Your business can provide a special parade visitor coupon for the weekend of December 3-4th, 2011 to attract residents and visitors to your business. The coupon will be listed on the website for visitors to print and bring to your location during the parade weekend.

The 2011 Parade is an ideal opportunity to extend your services to visitors and attract new customers. We hope you will take advantage of this opportunity and help us make the 12th Annual America's Children's Parade a success for Oakland and its business community.

Sincerely,

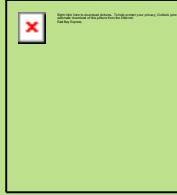

Joseph J. Haraburda

Parade Chair;

Oakland Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce
